Library Overdue Book Notices I

- Do notices look exactly like they always have?
- Teachers are conservative and will resist changing their routine in any way.

Library Overdue Book Notices II

- Is output sorted by class, and then by student name?
- Librarian gives notices to teachers to give to students. If s/he has to sort by hand, s/he won't use the system.

Library Overdue Book Notices III

- Is input by books NOT returned, rather than by books returned?
- Far more books are returned on time than not.
- Far more work to enter books returned.

Library Overdue Book Notices IV

- Does the manual make it clear that data must be saved to floppy after each time the system is used?
- If not, computer-shy librarian may forget.

Library Overdue Book Notices V

- Is saving done via a menu command?
- Teaching librarian to copy files is much harder than teaching him/her to use a menu command.

Library Overdue Book Notices VI

- Does system prompt for save upon exiting?
- If not, librarian may very well forget.

Library Overdue Book Notices VII

- Did you add features/functionality to impress the customer?
- What makes you think they will impress?
- Have you asked the customer if s/he's willing to pay the extra cost?
