

CS577b Quiz III

3 March, 2001

Fill in the blank:

1) Web applications typically need to maintain state to transfer information about a user from one page to another.

2) CGI programs can be passed information from HTTP via environment variables or standard in.

True or False:

3) JSP pages eventually become Servlets.

True

4) All databases use SQL.

False

5) Applications should always use an RDBMS whenever possible when persistence is needed.

False